Elude Officers.

Tucson—Dodging between dogs of men in the city park, most any of whom could have stopped them had they wished to intercept, two boys escaped the city officers yesterday afternoon and were not recaptured. The two boys, who did not stay at police headquarters long enough to register, had been brought in by Chief Murphy on a charge of having stolen some socks. The authorities are not allowed to lock boys up, so they were left in the court room with the day officer on guard. A few minutes after the two boys were landed at the station a lawyer appeared, and while the jailer was letting the lawyer in, the boys let themselves out.

Globe—The explosion of a gasoline stove in the home of John Conner, on North Hill, caused a disastrous fire which entailed a loss estimated at $12,000, and for a time threatened to destroy the entire neighborhood. Four houses, together with their contents, are a total loss. Furniture carried from a house nearby which was owned by Arthur Lee, was damaged to the extent of $300.

Tale of Brutes.

Tucson—Nolana Ursule, an aged Mexican woman, told a story of horrible mistreatment to a jury in district court in the trial of the Mendocino brothers for assaulting her. The woman testified that when she took to the Mendocinos, with two other men, came to her house shortly before midnight and broke through the door. She alleges that all five of them brutally assaulted her and taking her by the feet and hands, finally throwing her into a corner of the room with a force which rendered her limp useless for many weeks.

The four linemen who are striking from their employment with the Consolidated Telephone, Telegraph and Electric company, deny any knowledge of the cutting of the wires, fifteen miles north of Tucson on Sunday. They insist that they know nothing of the perpetrators of the offense. The linemen say that although they are on a strike, they do not intend to resort to underground methods in trying to gain their point.

Imagined Riches.

Globe—Believed to be mentally deranged, George Masterson, against whom a divorce proceeding was filed a few days ago by his wife, Mattie Masterson, is a prisoner in the city jail, awaiting an examination before Judge F. C. Robertson on an insanity charge. Masterson harbors a delusion that he is carrying something like $500,000 in cash on his person. He informed Judge Hinson Thomas of this fact when arraigned on a charge of disturbing the peace. That his case was at once ordered transferred to the probate court is not strange under the circumstances.

Van Slyck Dead.

Globe—After lying in a state of coma for four days, following a stroke of apoplexy, S. H. Van Slyck, former city controller of Globe, died at the Clara Barton hospital at Los Angeles. The wife and two married daughters of the deceased were in attendance when the end came. Van Slyck was hardly conscious at any time after he was stricken, and the end came peacefully. Funeral arrangements have not as yet been made. It is probable, however, that the remains will be shipped to Aurora, Ill. Mr. Van Slyck's former home, for interment.
